ABOUT US

In April of 2014, Jason Bowers and Matt Skudlarek had a few pints at one of their go-to pubs in town, Hair of the Dog. What started as a dream over a beer, became a reality for the pair.

After signing the lease only nine days later, Jason and Matt didn't waste any time getting the old, broken building on Houston St. up to code and the standards they wanted their guests to experience.

Starting in the basement, the partners called on all of their friends and people who were working in the industry to get their input on the cold, damp spot. In July of 2014, they opened their doors for the first time to the public. After a shockingly good start, the two decided that it was time to expand to the second floor. Their kitchen, (slightly larger than a Dodge Caravan), was not enough to put out the food that was being requested on a busy night. With the addition of an extra floor and large kitchen, The Bitter Alibi was able to expand their menu and open for brunch, lunch, dinner, and late night! Eighteen months after opening, they took over the top floor with a separate brand and name: The FIX. The FIX brought craft cocktails on scene and allowed them to showcase more than just craft beer and boxed wine.

M. L. King Blvd. has seen growth and life since the Bitter Team has been here. They are happy to be a small part in the restaurant family in Chattanooga, TN.

Our mission is: We, The Bitter Alibi, strive to bring consistent, delicious product to Chattanooga and her visitors. While providing a safe, inclusive, and fun environment for her guests, The Bitter Alibi believes that people of every color, class, or creed should be treated well and experience true hospitality in a unique space.

Thank you for visiting. Let us know if we can get you anything.
